Since I probably will never finish the work on my mod, perhaps it would be better to split it into parts this part about hero animations amazing how many unused animations in the game, it probably migrated from the second part
This mode uses some, such as running at an angle, downhill\uphill, various spreads on 45\90\180 degrees, around obstacles, etc.
Also now you can move when aiming ranged weapons.

install:
use Catspaw's GFWL emu extract archive and place DLC folder in Fable 3 game folder

Great mod thanks alot!
Had to remove some null characters at the end of the lua file but that's probably just cause I'm going the long way by putting the file into the gamescripts_r.bnk

Hey, firstly thanks for this mod and also the other one! Secondly, is there any kind of preparation I need to make to get this to work? Because simply putting the mod3 folder into the data folder doesn't seem to do anything for me. Also, I'm using DLC so maybe I need to put it into one of the DLC folders because the game gives priority to newer content?!

mod0 DLC1 (Understone and all others)
mod1 DLC2 (Traitors Keep) mod2-mod9 any mods

mod1 will overwrite mod0
mod2 will overwrite mod1
etc

of course you will need timeslip GFWL remover first

I've incorporated the mod into gamescripts_r.bnk and everything works fine so far. But there are a few issues. I'm playing the female hero and when she's moving slowly she makes very small steps and waddles at a certain speed. She also seems to "walk on ice". There's a kind of gliding effect. I'm playing with a controller. And another thing is she plays the same idle animation over and over again when she's standing still and doesn't alternate between idles anymore.

OK. I'm a do-it-yourself kinda guy so I figured it out. I fixed the gliding by changing the first couple of values back to the originals and the idle pose alternation by changing

HeroLocomotionStateIdleIdle.FeetMatchPoseTolerance = 0.8 back to HeroLocomotionStateIdleIdle.FootMatchCompareTolerance = 0.8

did you use walk mod tweak?

try to modify acceleration to ~0.5

I use different animations for moving\running and I was too lazy to test it on the vanilla...

Yes, I suspect that there some bug with idle animation :(

FeetMatchPoseTolerance vs FootMatchCompareTolerance ?

yea...I remember I was experimenting with this...and forgot that it was the original...

OK, I fixed it

Thanks

I was also wondering why you added Debug.ReloadHeroLocomotionStates( to the end of the file. It's not in the vanilla file.

I suspect that some of the stats written to the save file

Maybe I'm wrong

In any case, this function does not cause an error, so..

UPDATE

- now you can move when aiming ranged weapons (added strafe animation)
- added different animation for run, depending on hero fatness
- fixed some typos
- some tuning

* different animation for run will be switched between old one and new, but only when game is reloading (seems like change animation is not possible when game is load)

** when moving with aiming ranged weapon, try to not move forward and then left, it cause a bug, legs will go to left but torso still be directed to the right...

Thanks for the mod! For some reason, I can strafe when aiming (targeted, using RMB) but not when firing normally. I'm going to try to fix it myself, but I'm REALLY new to this whole thing!

Well... getting less new to the whole modding thing as fast as I can. I think I figured this out. I believe it has something to do with the target selection for flourishes (you know - how you can target the guy behind you). Now that I am familiar with the mod, it integrates quite smoothly, and I don't find myself wishing for any more!

Thanks again for putting this together!

in normal behavior, you can't move when firing because is playing animation sequence

Roger. That's (kinda) what I said.

Thanks for your response, though! I was beginning to think this forum was COMPLETELY dead!
